Figure 1: A schematic diagram of a 3D grid of cells. The grid is composed of several rectangular cells. A central cell is labeled '08-04C'. To its left is '08-04', to its right is '08-05', and below it is '08-04E'. Above '08-04C' is '08-04A', and to the right of '08-04A' is '08-05D'. Below '08-04C' is '08-04B', and to the right of '08-04B' is '08-05'. Below '08-04B' is '08-04F', and to the right of '08-04F' is '08-05B'. A red rectangle highlights the cells '08-04C', '08-04B', and '08-04E'.
